Hi Greg and Sandy,

now that we have completed our renovation I thought it appropriate to provide you some feedback.

Greg Scott Constructions built a new kitchen and family room after totally demolishing our old room. The quality of workmanship from Greg and his team has resulted in a room that is not only very functional but looks very impressive. The design had to match an existing California bungalow 2 storey house and was designed to provide significant light, warmth and insulation to Melbourne's hostile westerly conditions. Greg and his team's attention to detail and innovative on the job thinking was required at many stages in order to deal with the difficult integration with the existing house and landscaping on sloping ground. The room was supplemented with pathway infrastructure and secure fencing to complement our streetscape. One of the other appealing features was Greg's break down of costs which simplified the tracking of invoices and necessary change requests. I would recommend Greg as an experienced builder to deal with house renovations addressing houses that already have great character. Our experiences with Greg and his team supported the view that it is far better to contract specialist tradesmen to build quality structures that will last the period of time rather than skimp on price and quality. You really do get what you pay for!

Thanks again for a great result!
